Lifeguards Patrolling Okaloosa County Beaches

Okaloosa County Lifeguards will begin patrolling county beaches beginning Saturday, March 10, 2007, at 9 a.m. Lifeguards will work daily through the season, which ends in mid-October.

“The Okaloosa County Beach Safety Program has worked hard, saving countless lives through rescues and more importantly, through education. Since its inception in 2003, the program has continually expanded and provides an invaluable service to both our residents and millions of visitors alike,” stated Okaloosa County Public Safety Director Dino Villani.
