Heritage Museum Hosts Emerald Coast Woodturners Guild

On Saturday, September 20, 2008 the Heritage Museum of Northwest Florida (HMNF) will host the Emerald Coast Woodturning Guild (ECWG) as part of its Heritage Alive! Craft Series. The program begins at 10 a.m. and is free and open to the public.

Hands-on learning – with basic instruction in traditional woodturning and woodcraft techniques. Craftsmen from the ECWG will demonstrate their incredible skills, display their finely crafted work and answer questions from visitors.

The HMNF keeps traditional handcrafts and trades alive through its monthly Heritage Alive! Craft Series. This series is supported in part with a grant from the Okaloosa Arts Alliance. Seating is limited, call (850) 678-2615 for a reservation. For more information visit www.heritage-museum.org.

Heritage Museum of Northwest Florida, 115 Westview Avenue, Valparaiso, Florida 32580, (850) 678-2615, Fax 678-4547, Hours: Tuesday-Saturday, 10 a.m. – 4 p.m., Admission: $2, children under 3 and museum members free.
