

County Road 393 Still Flooded; Use Alternate Routes

County Road 393 is still compromised north and south of Poverty Creek Road. All residents are urged to use an alternate route, in anticipation that the area will be under water several days. This area at Shoal River and Big Bend Creek is extremely hazardous to cross and county officials warn residents the water over County Road 393 will be undetectable at night and uncrossable. Again, residents should exercise extreme caution when traveling near rivers and use alternate routes.
