Destiny Cat Fanciers is hosting their sixth Annual Cat Show at the Emerald Coast Convention Center in Fort Walton Beach, Florida on from 9am until 4pm on Saturday, January 22 and Sunday, January 23, 2011. Price for admission is $6.00 for adults, $5.00 for seniors, military, and children (4-12), and children under 4 are admitted free. Get $1.00 off your admission with a large can or unopened bag of cat food!

Over 100 cats will be present and competing at this show. Judging will take place in 6 different rings each day. You will have the opportunity to see many different breeds of cats including Bengals, Sphynx, Maine Coons, Ragdolls, Persians, Siberians, and many more. There is also a special category for household pets and kittens, which need not be purebreds. Final awards will be presented in each category. Cat lovers from all over the country will be present to compete, we'll even have some out of country contestants. Join us Sunday for a special judging of kittens by their litter in the morning, and a presentation of rescue cats available for adoption in the early afternoon.

In addition to the cats and kittens, there will be many vendors selling gift items for you and your pet, scratching posts, magazines, jewelry, toys, as well as unusual items.

Feline Friends of Destin, a rescue group will also attend the show. They will bring homeless pets for adoption. They will also be collecting donations for their organization.

Motzie the famous Savannah will be joining us as well. The Savannah is a new breed of cat, derived from domestic cats and servals. Motzie is well known for his outgoing personality and handsome good looks. Come check him out!
